Renovation . . . Restoration

Renovation Brings Change

No workers can be found after hours. The bricks are laid and there is hope for roofing early next week.

Renovation brought many changes to the schedules of both Northern High and Northern Middle School staff and students. This move also affected various people whose support is needed to keep our school running. Bus drivers had to almost completely change their daily schedules, sometimes making as many as six trips. The middle school students arrived at 7:30, leaving the school at 12:30, whereas the high school students arrived at 12:30, leaving the school at 5:30. This created not only a change in the school schedule but also a tremendous change for the family. Somehow, through the determination of everyone involved, it was proven that it could be done.

Busses Transport

Bricks and cement are set out for laying blocks tomorrow.

Classes took place at several locations. Some students were fortunate enough to have all of their classes at the Middle School. Other students, however, spent their day traveling from Camp Hickory, to the Middle School, to the High School. The only class that all students had at the Middle School was English. A shuttle bus was used between every class to transport students to each location. Students had to be especially careful not to be tardy, or they might miss their ride.

Mrs. Nice adjourns Office Practice at 3:25, so the students won't miss the bus.

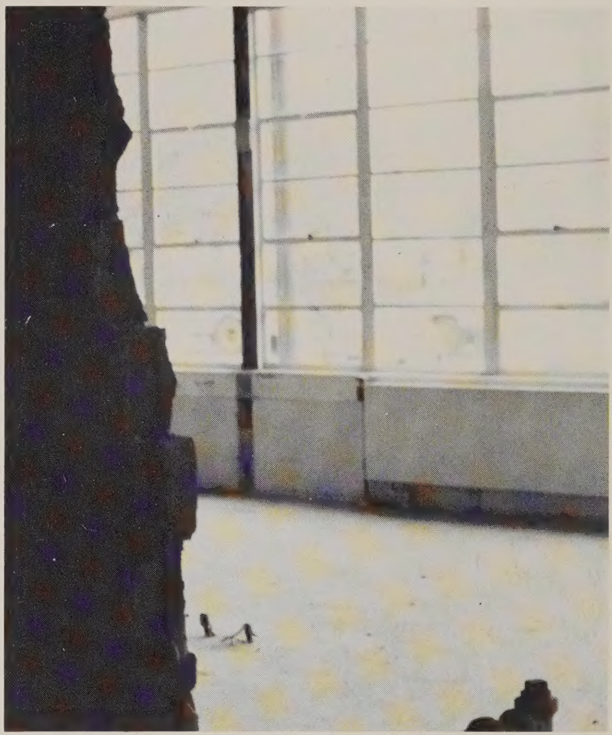
Did you say that the school was being renovated . . . or torn down?



It seems as if the construction will never end.

Adrienne Cowan

Adrienne Cowan is crowned 1985 Homecoming Queen by Mr. Ed Green as her escort Bill Friend and Sheila Bender look on.

Kelli Grove, escorted by Gary Beitzel eagerly waits for the decision of student votes.

The band's halftime performance adds style to the Homecoming festivities.

"Cherishes The Night"

After being crowned Queen, Adrienne Cowan is congratulated by 1984 Queen Sheila Bender.

In addition to the traditional crowning of Homecoming Queen, many events led up to Homecoming night. The cheerleaders sponsored Spirit Week to boost school spirit, and the dance following the game. A bonfire was planned for Thursday, October 24, but had to be postponed due to severe rain and flooding. An added event this year was the crowning of a Bonfire King. This was sponsored by the Student Activities Committee which nominated five candidates, and the students voted on the nominees.

The football team nominated five candidates for Homecoming Queen. The girls chosen were: Kelli Grove, Adrienne Cowan, Julie Robeson, Ronda Upole, and Virginia Guthrie. Students voted for the nominee of their choice, and during the Northern vs. Valley football game, Adrienne Cowan was crowned the 1985 Homecoming Queen.

Julie Robeson, escorted by Kevin Sines, awaits the outcome of Homecoming Queen.

Virginia Guthrie and her escort Jeff Beitzel wait in anticipation as the other candidates come onto the field.

Ronda Upole and escort Mark Miller look on as the announcement of Homecoming Queen is made.

Students Participate In Spirit Week

Jenni Golden, Sheli Bittinger, Linda Frantz, Aaron Zumpano, Sean Frederick, and Mike Robeson show their spirit on Sweat Day.

As a part of Homecoming, the cheerleaders sponsored a "Spirit Week" to promote student spirit for one of the season's most important games.

Each day had a designated theme. Monday was Sweat Day when students were to wear sweat suits. Tuesday was 50's Day, as girls dressed in poodle skirts and bobby socks, with boys in white tee shirts, blue jeans, and sunglasses. Girls wore their hair in ponytails, and boys greased back their hair. On Wednesday students dressed as their favorite rock star for Rock and Roll Day. Thursday was Tough Day and students adorned themselves in chains, bandanas, and leather. On Friday, students showed their spirit by wearing blue and gold articles of clothing, along with buttons and hats.

Angie Pitts and Renee Cowan take time to pose on Tough Day.

Gary Beitzel and Mary Bowser display their spirit by dressing up on 50's Day.

Bill Friend Crowned Bonfire King

The nominees for Bonfire King were Mike Bowyer, escorted by Sherri Frantz; Terry Beal, escorted by Dianna Vitez; Bryon Baker, escorted by Kendra Frazee; Bill Friend, escorted by Julie Stevens; and Greg Wilburn, escorted by April Thomas.

Bonfire King, Bill Friend, was escorted by Julie Stevens.

The Student Council organized a Bonfire Committee which, in addition to organizing the Bonfire itself, nominated five candidates for the title of Bonfire King. These included Bill Friend, escorted by Julie Stevens; Terry Beal, escorted by Dianna Vitez; Greg Wilburn, escorted by April Thomas; Bryon Baker, escorted by Kendra Frazee; and Mike Bowyer, escorted by Sherri Frantz. Due to severe rain and flooding, we were unable to have the Bonfire. But on November 13, 1985, during homeroom announcements in the cafeteria, Bill Friend was crowned Bonfire King.

Students Present

After a sip-sigh, Don (Mark Robeson) questions Ben (Ralph Klotzbaugh) about Alice's unfaithfulness.

Alice (Adrienne Cowan) opens the Nagasaki scene.

Ben (Ralph Klotzbaugh) shows Don (Mark Robeson) the undeniable truth.

"Who's On First?"

Madam Camille (LuAnn Hartley) searches Alice's apartment for evil spirits.

Alice (Adrienne Cowan) tortures Ben (Ralph Klotzbaugh) with the rubber chicken.

Don (Mark Robeson) and Milly (LuAnn Hartley) sit and talk about Ben Boy (Ralph Klotzbaugh).

On November 13 and 14, Mr. Gerald Snelson's theatre class presented "Who's On First?" to the student body. The class gave a final performance for the public on Friday, November 15 at 7:30 P.M. The cast consisted of four Northern High School students, all of whom struggled against time to learn lines. The cast members were Mark Robeson (Don), Adrienne Cowan (Alice), LuAnn Hartley (Camille), and Ralph Klotzbaugh (Ben). The stage manager, Miranda Hicks, devoted her time to pull the play together. The story line follows Camille, who gives a party in which Alice is going to perform a magic show for her husband, Don. Don, however, thinks that Alice is having an affair with Ben, her magic teacher. Don gets upset and shoots Ben and Alice. They wish that things would have gone differently, and they find themselves at the party's beginning again and again, in different times and places, doomed to live the same hour over and over until they get it right.

The theatre class also provided the personnel for a prop committee, a costume committee, a make-up committee, and a public relations committee. These groups worked hard together to make the play a success.

Julie Robeson Crowned 1986 Snowball Queen

The 1986 Snowball Princesses are Carie House escorted by Wayne Tabor, Kathleen Peterson escorted by Glenn Seaman, and Stacey Thomas escorted by Dennis Hetrick. Not pictured: Missy Durst, senior princess, escorted by Danny Sines.

The 1986 Snowball Queen is Julie Robeson, escorted by Kevin Sines.

During a dance sponsored by the Lettermen's Club, Julie Robeson was crowned 1986 Snowball Queen. During clubs, the Lettermen nominated four girls from each grade to run for Snowball Princesses and five in the twelfth grade to run for Queen. The student body voted for one girl for each position and the results were: Ninth Grade, Kathleen Peterson; Tenth Grade, Carie House; Eleventh Grade, Stacey Thomas, Twelfth Grade, Missy Durst, and Queen, Julie Robeson.

Class Prayer

Dear Heavenly Father, Giver of Life,

We thank you for the life you gave us at Northern High. We thank you for the education we received, the friends we found, and the memories we made.

Now as we leave, give us courage to face the challenges ahead. May we learn new things, find new friends, and make new memories, but may they never overshadow those we shared as the Class of 1986 of Northern High School.

In Jesus' name,
Amen.

Juniors Arrange For Prom Night

A major responsibility of the Junior Class officers elected at the beginning of the year was planning the 1986 Junior-Senior Prom. In the first fund-raising effort for the Prom, the juniors cleared approximately three hundred dollars from cookie sales. Still needing funds, they raised nearly $1200 by selling the annual favorites—krunch and caramel candy bars—for 50¢ each. The officers worked with their advisor, Mr. Martin Green, to plan for the prom which was held at the Grantsville Holliday Inn.

Writing Test Scores

In September, the sophomores learned they really had something to be proud about. Although they had many other tasks and concepts to worry about when they were freshmen, one of the main concerns was passing the Maryland Functional Writing Test. Scores of narrative and explanatory responses were written in answer to writing prompts in practice sessions in English classes. But in the end, the extra work "Paid off." Northern High School had the highest scores in the entire state of Maryland. One hundred sixty students took the test in the spring of 1985. Returning to school in September, one hundred thirty-seven students learned they had passed the test. Eighteen students had perfect scores of 8.0.

Freshmen Adapt To Environment

It is a big step from being an eighth grader in a middle school to becoming a freshman in high school with all the new faces. This year it was not quite as big a step for the freshmen. Due to the fact that the high school building was being renovated, the regular classes were held at the middle school, with vocational classes held at Camp Hickory and sections of the high school building. The incoming freshmen were used to the environment and setting of the school. The entire school, however, had to adapt to the afternoon schedule and to the triple-location classrooms linked in part by the shuttle bus.

Mrs. Dorothy George

For Mr. Edward Green, Principal, the school year was quite different. His work day often began at 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning, depending on whether or not he had to meet with the architects. His work day would end at approximately 6:30 P.M., but if there was some kind of school activity after school, he would sometimes not get home until 11:30 P.M. Mr. Green reported that he thought this year would go well, but it was going better than he expected.

Because of the complicated schedule this year with renovation, the coaches had a very hard time trying to schedule practice, due to all of the students attending afternoon classes. Most of the coaches had practice in the morning one day and in the evening the next day. When two coaches scheduled practice for the same time, one of the coaches had practice at the high school and the other practiced at the middle school. Sometimes when two or more coaches scheduled practice for the same time, they might split the gym with one of the other coaches. In spite of the difficulties, the coaches managed to arrange a workable schedule that gave all the teams the necessary practice time.

SPORTS

Missy Durst bumps the ball so it can be set for a spike.

The volleyball team set a school record by winning 14 games and losing only 1, to Mt. Savage. In their regular season, the volleyball team defeated the county rival, the Southern Rams, and captured the rotating trophy. The volleyball team then topped this excellent season record by going to the Class C Regional District playoffs. Furthermore, the lady Huskies went to the Class C State Championship and returned jubilantly victorious over all their opponents there.

Season Record: 8-2

This is the first year that N.H.S. has had a J.V. volleyball team. The Lady Huskies have reason to be extremely proud of their first year. Following in the footsteps of the varsity, the girls, with captain Shayne Couch, had an outstanding record of 18 wins and 2 losses. To top this off, some of the J.V. players got to play part of their season as Varsity players.

Overhand server Lisa Swauger serves to Southern opponents.

The J.V. football team had a less than satisfying season, which resulted in a 2-5 record. Their wins consisted of a 6-0 win over Bruce, and a 13-0 win over Valley. Even though they did not have an outstanding record, they did accomplish several close games, such as the Northern vs. Southern game which had a score of 16-20.

J.V. Huskies set up a play against East Preston.

The Varsity football team struggled through their season and came out with a 0-9 record. At the Valley versus Northern game the quarterback, Kevin Sines, fell victim to a serious injury, which ended in his having to suffer through several months on crutches while he wore a cast. Putting away county rivalry, Southern High School hosted an alumni basketball game with all the benefits going towards the payment of Kevin's surgery. At the conclusion of the season, Kevin Sines and Bill Friend were picked for the all-star football team. Only Bill attended, though, due to Kevin's injury.

The Garrett County Swim Team practiced every Saturday, with competition continuing throughout summer. There were swimming competitions using Freestyle, the Breastroke, the Backstroke and the Butterfly, culminating in the Championship Meet. Several students spent their weekends practicing their bowling, and members of 4-H Clubs entered weekend competitions. Also, in after-school hours, members of the Football Team who were not in winter sports started a Weightlifters' Team to help them stay in shape for the next football season.

The editor and staff members started functioning a year previous to the yearbook's publication. After a staff had been chosen, the members acquainted themselves with yearbook procedures and their own individual jobs. Assignments were made, and soon the staff was bustling with activity. Members were urged to keep on schedule in order to meet deadlines. Section editors were responsible for all senior write-ups, activity and club articles, and division page summaries. The editor then checked the articles and made necessary corrections and revisions. The pace became more rapid, and the typists were flooded with material. The student photographers were seen at assemblies, dances, games, and almost anywhere taking candid shots. After the editor-in-chief had chosen a theme, the yearbook staff chose the cover and division pages to go along with the theme. The staff worked as a unit under the guidance and instructions of the advisor, Miss Joanna Miller.

There were thirteen members on the staff, nine of whom were getting their first year of experience in journalism. Tracey Springman, as editor, tried to keep the staff in order in spite of the confusion of renovation. The price of the yearbooks was raised to $18.00 because of the rising production cost.

The Viking staff, advised by Mr. William Kolbe, initiated a Viking mascot. The mascot was created by Jesse Brobst, a senior on the staff. Pictured with different symbols, it gave an idea of the contents in each issue. Newspaper coverage included events in and out of school. The Viking reported on the space shuttle tragedy in which seven U.S. astronauts died on January 28, as well as on the U.S. effort to stop terrorism from Libya. They also reported on things such as fads of the 1980's, with jams hitting the top of the list, and jellybean shoes quickly going out of style. Each issue included a comic strip complementing the theme of the paper. Published by the Journalism I class, the majority of whom were seniors, the paper was made camera-ready and sent to the printers. Individual copies were sold for 25¢, and the senior souvenir issue sold at $2.00 by subscription or $2.50 per copy after the papers arrived.

Student Council sponsored a toy/book drive to make Christmas a little more exciting for the flood children.

Flood Victims

The Student Council was, as usual, involved in many activities.

In October, the Bonfire Committee, chaired by Sherri Frantz, planned the bonfire, but it was cancelled because of inclement weather. The bonfire king, crowned during morning announcements, was Bill Friend. The runners up were Byron Baker, Mike Bowyer, Terry Beal, and Greg Wilburn.

In November, after the West Virginia flood, a Flood Relief Committee was formed, with Missy Bittinger as chairperson. They sponsored a canned food drive, and in December a toy/book drive for the flood children. At a dance in December, anyone who didn't bring a toy or book was charged an extra dollar for admission. Many clubs also donated a certain amount of money and toys.

In January the student council officers from Southern came to Northern and the Northern officers, Michelle Glotfelty, President, Shannon Wright, Vice President, Tammy Swauger, Treasurer, and Missy Bittinger, Secretary, went to Southern. They spent a day in classes and visiting the students.

In the spring, they sold psychadelic and inscribed pencils for ten cents each.

Once again, they sponsored computer dating before Valentine's Day. Students filled out information cards. When the results came they paid $1.50 for one, or $2.00 for both sheets. Each sheet had ten names, listed in order of most to least compatible. One sheet had names from the students own grade, and the other had names from the whole school.

In April, they scheduled a danceathon, but later cancelled it due to lack of participation, and held an ordinary dance with a dance contest during one song. The winners, Debbie Cook, and Bryon Baker, were awarded with N.H.S.S.C. (Northern High School Student Council) t-shirts.

Student Council held a "Student/Teacher Swap Day" in which a student exchanged with a teacher to teach on that day. Students were given apples and certificates of appreciation.

In the spring, on May 16, the academic Banquet was held in the middle School cafeteria. Students were honored for academic achievements and winners of vocational awards were recognized. Student Council officers were acknowledged and a film on student involvement was shown.

There were four outstanding committees: Ways and Means, chaired by Dianna Vitez, School Improvement, chaired by Connie McKenzie, Student Activities, chaired by Sherri Frantz, and Public Relations, chaired by Jenni Golden.

Club Members Enjoy Typing As A Pastime

Crystal Swauger puts her typing skills to use.

Another new club this year is Typing for Fun. Members do "fun" typing projects, such as pictures, puzzles and seasonal decorations.

Students have time to do different kinds of typing other than the usual classroom work. By joining Typing for Fun, students were given the opportunity to create, express, and use typing skills for their own enjoyment. To join Typing for Fun students needed to know how to type.

To join the Computer Club, students had to be quick to sign up because of the limited number of students compared to the number of students wishing to join.

The club provided a chance for students to work on a machine they may not have had at home. They applied computer skills at their own rates on programs of their choice. Their work was undirected, giving students the opportunity to explore projects beyond their assigned class work, thus broadening their curriculum.

Club Raises Money For Lady Huskies

During club period, club members listen to annoucements related to club activities.

The purpose of Girls' Varsity is to recognize female athletes as an important part of our sports program. Recognition came throughout the year, especially during initiation week, when new members dressed up as various things like a little girl and a baby. Members also got varsity sweaters.

As a fundraiser, the girls sold chances to win cabbage patch dolls, Gabe and Gabrielle. They were cousins to last year's Nicole and were won by Joe Lechman.

Lettermen Draw Up New Constitution

The Lettermen's Club earned money for jackets by selling flower seeds and bulbs. They also hosted the Snowball Dance to earn money for a summer trip to Geauga Lake. They also reviewed sports films so they could discuss errors and help improve their team's performance. They made up a new constitution with several new points.

Future Farmers Gain Agricultural Knowledge

Students in the Future Farmers of America club joined to further their agriculture education. Besides starting vegetable seedlings and learning to cultivate them, the students learned modern techniques in various aspects of farming and how to safely operate machinery.

The schools and communit rural location helped since many of the students are already on a farm at home, or live near one. The experience they gained in the club will help them as they pursue a career in farming.

Clubs Promote Logical Thinking

Ron Sabatula and Craig Weimer compete in a game of Chinese Chess.

At meetings of the Logic Games Club, the members learn and play various games of logic and strategy, such as chess, Stratego, checkers, and Connect Four. The games challenge students to think logically not only in the club, but in all classes.

Drill Team Peps Up School Activities

The Drill Team Silk Squad club led the band in parades and added to the exciting experience of going to a football or basketball game. Their half-time shows pepped up the crowd and the players.

Many hours were spent at practices and during class and club periods working on the routines developed by each class.

The club went to Baltimore with the band, but didn't have a chance to perform.

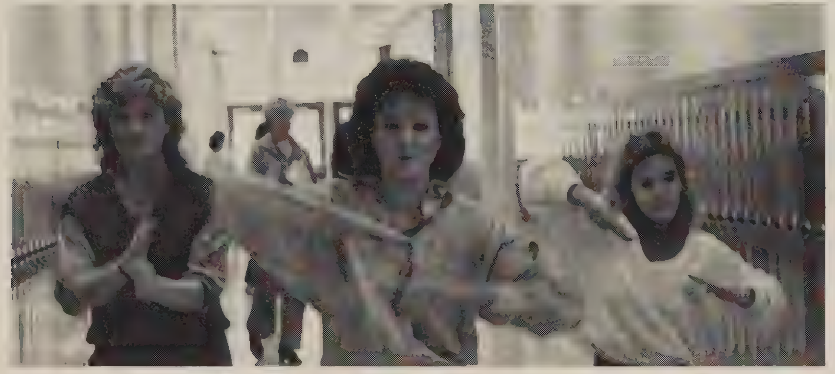
The cheerleading club boosted school spirit through cheers at athletic activities. During club period they practiced to become better at what they did for N.H.S, to learn cheers, sidelines, and pyramids, and to discuss upcoming games. They also sponsored another spirit week and made signs that psyched the athletes and helped get students out to the games. At cheerleading camp in Salem, West Virginia, last summer, the Varsity Squad won first place in camp competition.

Try-outs for the '86-'87 squads were held April 2 for the Varsity, and April 9 for the Junior Varsity.



Varsity cheerleaders Jenni Golden, Adrienne Cowan, and Kim Frank go through their "Hello" cheer during a club period.

God Squad Active In Fund-Raising

Shelly Lindeman hands treasurer Dianne Bender the money she raised selling stuffed animals.

The God Squad participated in many activities; they contributed to the Flood Children's Toy/Book Drive, sold stuffed animals to raise money for a trip to the Simthsonian Institute in Washington, D.C., bought God Squad jerseys, and played a Bible Trivia game which President Debby Yoder made up. The winning team was awarded free admission to a three-dimensional film at the Smithsonian. They also earned money, half of which they donated to Joy Ministries, by cleaning the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church.

As a guest speaker, Larry Yoder, director of J.O.Y. Ministries came in to talk about his work.

Aviation Offers New Opportunities

Students had the option of joining a new club this year, aviation. William Tritt, the advisor, taught members exactly how airplanes fly, some rules of flying and how they can relate flying to driving. They were also introduced to types of planes, terminology and instruments. Students learned subject matter not normally addressed in school curriculum and material that isn't familiar to most people. Most of the students joined because of a special interest in an aviation-related career or a hobby in aviation. The club planned a field trip to the Morgantown airport.

SADD Attempts To Before It

The SADD Club is fairly new to N.H.S. since this is only its second year, but they were very active in many happenings. They once again sold valentines and carnations for Valentines Day, made shamrock's with SADD slogans on them for St. Patrick's Day, and had an in-school Easter egg hunt. Each egg had a question pertaining to SADD inside. Anyone who correctly answered the question won a prize such as a keychain, a free ticket to the SADD dance or the grand prize of ten dollars. They sponsored a dance on May 9th which was D.J.'ed by Jeff Jenkins and John Morgan. During one club period Carlos Reys came in to give a demonstration on drugs and alcoholism. They also typed up small slips of paper with SADD sayings on them and sent them to various flower shops and men's wear stores to be placed in tuxedo pockets and with corsages.

The purpose of SADD is to eliminate drunk drivers and save lives, to conduct community awareness programs, to alert and inform student of the dangers of mixing alcohol and driving, and to organize a peer conseling program to help students who may have concerns about alcohol.

President Philip Rodeheaver, Secretary Virginia Guthrie and Vice President Tina Crouch discuss plans for the dance.

Students in the JOBS Club spent club periods listening to different speakers tell about their jobs, and learning of the different career opportunities available to them after graduation from high school.

Some speakers were Juanita Harris from the Tri-State Beauty Academy, Martin Heise from Will O' Wisp, Melanie Niewolner from Allegany Community College, and Robert and Mark Miller, local farmers.

On April 24, they took a trip to Kims Khocolate and Schmidts Bakery in Cumberland, MD, with the FHA Club. For several meetings, the FHS Club joined them, as the speakers were of importance to both clubs. Many students joined because they plan to go into the job world after graduation instead of going to college. The club gave them ideas of careers they can choose.

Ski Club Goes To Wisp

The Ski Club donated money and toys to the Flood Children's Toy and Book Drive in December, along with many other clubs. They had a day of skiing at the Wisp on February 13, 1986. They also ordered racing shirts and sweatshirts.

One club period, Brian Wachter from Tips-Up Ski Shop showed them the new line of ski equipment and clothing. On May 12, during clubs, they had a picnic with pizza, chips, and soda and played softball.

On March 14, 1986 the Winterfest Scholastic Races were held at the Wisp. Several members placed from Northern High School: Twelfth Grade Division-Mike Ferguson 2nd place; Eleventh Grade Division-Jeff Humberson 3rd place; Tenth Grade Division-Eric Martin 3rd place; Ninth Grade Division-Matt Bach 1st place and Charlotte Bowman 1st place. Clubs Further Vocational Skills

Kenton Bender, Scott Wachter, and Kenneth Bowser work on their projects.

The Electronics Club worked with other students in electronics and residential wiring classes to repair school electronic components. They familiarized themselves with electronic circuits and parts and worked on projects at club meetings. They had group sessions on orders for projects kits at the beginning of the year, and after they arrived, it took the rest of the year to complete them.
